Subject: Letter of Recommendation

To whom it may concern:

Troy Neihardt is an exceptional and rare performer who blends classic dueling piano experience with the ability to enrapture an audience of 500+ people with one note of his harmonica. He has been performing with us in Singapore for the last 3 mos and no two shows have ever been the same. He is the breath of fresh air that everyone talks about. He is never done learning, growing, changing, expanding and teaching and that is why people love him.

His technical ability on the piano, bass, and drums make him a welcome and sought after team mate but, if you really want to feel like you're at a rock show, give him a wireless mic, a harmonica and get out of his way. He has the energy of Pan and he will make the audience follow him across the land.

As an ambassador for the concept few are more dedicated to helping the company he is supporting. Constantly networking and developing strong marketing ideas he works quietly and consistently behind the lines to make everyone's life a little bit better, a little easier.

Troy is returning to the States at the end of June but we have been honored to have him and would be honored to have him again when his schedule allows. If you have the opportunity to work with him then I would say it's a no-brainer, you would be smart to have him on your team.

Thank you.
